MEMO

RE: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, Was; Et Al
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R

Re: MORRIS ASIMOV, alias AZIMOV

In connection with the attempted identification of the unknown KEITH and the latter's relationship with AZIMOV, related by CHAMBERS, he was interviewed by SA FRANCIS X. PLANT and the writer on January 18, 1949, and he furnished the following information.

In early 1935 CHAMBERS was introduced to a Soviet agent known only as BILL. BILL was very desirous to have CHAMBERS go to England to head a Soviet apparatus in that country, and some preliminary arrangements were made for the necessary cover for this mission. During the time that arrangements were being made for this cover, BILL related that he wanted to have a responsible person carry a money belt to the West coast, and suggested that CHAMBERS might be the person who could handle this mission. Subsequently, BILL gave CHAMBERS a money belt, which according to CHAMBERS contained a substantial amount of currency, probably $10,000. BILL instructed CHAMBERS to proceed by train to San Francisco where he would be met by an individual who CHAMBERS would know, and who would accept the money from him. CHAMBERS traveled to San Francisco, registered at the Golden Gate Y.M.C.A. under the name of LLOYD CANTWELL. After he was there one or two days, an individual who introduced himself only as PETE came to the Y.M.C.A. and informed CHAMBERS that he was the person he was supposed to meet and turn the money belt over to. CHAMBERS was very vague as to how PETE knew him (CHAMBERS) or how this meeting in San Francisco was arranged.

However, he described PETE, who he subsequently knew as KEITH, as being in his upper 20's in 1935, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches tall, medium build, weight approximately 160 pounds, dark brown hair, long face, pale complexion, peculiar eyes in that the upper eyelids on the outside of his face turned down, giving him somewhat of an oriental look, walked with a slight stoop, nationality American, and apparently raised on the West coast.

CHAMBERS related that he has some rather vague indication that he later learned that PETE or KEITH'S real name was CRANE. After the meeting in the YMCA, PETE took CHAMBERS to an individual named VALKOFF whose home was located somewhere in the suburbs of San Francisco. VALKOFF was referred to almost reverently as "the old man" and according to CHAMBERS was an old time Communist Party member and underground worker on the West coast. Either PETE or CHAMBERS then turned the money belt over to VALKOFF and subsequently CHAMBERS returned to New York City.

In a prior interview with CHAMBERS, the latter related in connection with the unknown subject KEITH that he had never met AZIMOV, but that AZIMOV and one SVIASHNIKOV were friends of KEITH'S, and he gave some background data concerning these two individuals with the hope that the location of AZIMOV AND SVIASHNIKOV might turn up the unknown KEITH. However, when he was interviewed today, he stated that he had learned, probably through J. PETERS, that the latter had a contact, AZIMOV, who was the head of a research division of the United States Steel Company in Chicago, and that occasionally AZIMOV would travel from Chicago to New York City, where he would meet PETERS. CHAMBERS, of course, did not definitely know whether AZIMOV at this time is turning over documentary information to PETERS.

CHAMBERS also learned from PETERS that while AZIMOV was in San Francisco the latter had either made some discovery or obtained some information of material interest in connection with steel alloys. This latter information was supplied to PETERS probably via KEITH on the West Coast, and that PETERS had requested that this information be immediately turned over to the Russian Consul in San Francisco.

Reference is made to the report of SA HAROLD F. DODGE, dated January 7, 1949 at Los Angeles, in instant case. On Page 10 of this report it is indicated that AZIMOV was employed at the University of California at Berkeley as an instructor from June, 1931, to June, 1936, and that from June, 1936 to September, 1940 he was a research metallurgist at the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company in Chicago, and in 1937 he was placed in charge of research at the company's plant in Gary, Indiana. AZIMOV, when interviewed, related that on two occasions in the early 1930's he furnished technical information to a society in Berkeley, California whose purpose was the exchange of industrial technical knowledge between the United States and Russia; that in 1936, shortly after he began employment with the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company in Chicago, he was contacted by an individual whose last name he very vaguely recalled as GREEN and whose first name he suggested might have been PETE. GREEN asked AZIMOV for some information which AZIMOV recalled was probably concerning some industrial steel alloy. This information was furnished partly from his own knowledge and partly from the files of the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company.

AZIMOV related that he had briefly met GREEN occasionally in Berkeley, California. From the information obtained from CHAMBERS in an interview with AZIMOV on the West Coast, it would appear that PETE and KEITH are identical; that the PETE that CHAMBERS met on his trip to San Francisco is identical with the PETE GREEN that contacted AZIMOV in Chicago. It would also appear that PETE probably operated a Communist Party or underground parallel on the West Coast while he was there, and that AZIMOV was probably one of several persons from whom he obtained information for the apparatus. It would also appear that AZIMOV now takes on the role of a subject in this case, rather than an individual who might simply supply some information relative to the true identity of KEITH, alias PETE.

On January 20, Mr. H. B. Fletcher of the Bureau called referring to our teletype of January 19, concerning the forthcoming interview with J. PETERS. Mr. Fletcher advised that we were authorized to serve the subpoena on PETERS as requested by Mr. Donegan.

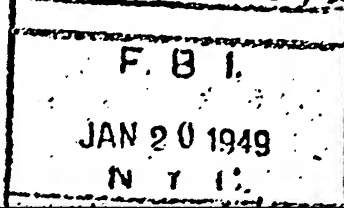

Mr. Fletcher further referred to our teletype of January 18, relative to the desirability of interviewing LEIBER. He advised that we should go ahead and interview LEIBER and if Mr. Donegan desired us to serve a subpoena on LEIBER, we were authorized to do so.

Mr. Fletcher further suggested that we ascertain from WHITTAKER CHAMBERS what happened to the Leica camera that he used when he was photographing documents given to him by HISS in Baltimore and any other cameras he may have had.

MEMORANDUM:

Re: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, with aliases
ALGER HISS, et al;
PERJURY
ESPIONAGE - R

At 11:35 a.m., January 20, ASAC Lally, Baltimore, advised that he had received a phone call from JACK WARREN, former agent, now with the Dupont Company at Wilmington, Delaware. He stated that HAROLD ROSENWALD, apparently one of ALGER HISS' investigators, presently was at the New Jersey plant of Dupont requesting information similar to that which we had already obtained regarding the manufacture of microfilm, date of manufacture, etc., etc., and the question has arisen as to whether Dupont should turn over information to ROSENWALD. Mr. Lally said that they desired the matter referred to Mr. Donegan for an opinion. I asked him whether Dupont couldn't refuse to turn over this information without receiving a subpoena, which would not be an unusual stand to take. He stated that this had been considered, but in view of the excellent relations with Dupont it would be appreciated if the matter were referred to Mr. Donegan.

I called Mr. Lally back at 11:55 a.m. and advised him that I had called Mr. Donegan out of the Grand Jury to present this problem to him, and that he desired to consider the matter before rendering a decision. I told him I would call him back as soon as possible.

At 1:20 p.m., in the absence of Mr. Lally, I advised Agent Bauknight that Mr. Donegan felt that he could not advise the Dupont people to refuse to turn over the requested information to ROSENWALD inasmuch as he did not want to have the Government charged with hampering defense efforts; that he mentioned that he could see no reason why Dupont could not, if it so desired and without any such advice coming from him, refuse to turn over the information without a subpoena.
